

THE BATH CHRONICLE
BATH, ENGLAND
4 JULY 1907

The Star in the West.

"The Star in the West," by Captain J. F. C. Fuller, is the title of a forthcoming critical essay upon the poetical and philosophical works of Aleister Crowley. In it a full account is given, not only of his iconoclasm towards many past and present systems of thought, but of his reconciliation of such apparent opposites as Theism and Atheism; Rationalism and Mysticism; Ethics, Buddhism, and the Qabalah; and all such earnest questions as The New Morality; The New Theology; The New Mysticism of the present day into one great Scientific Illuminism, which alone can guide us across this boisterous ocean of modern thought to a haven of perfect rest. The Walter Scott Publishing Co., Ltd., will issue Captain Fuller's work..