2 APRIL 1910

To Aleister Crowley, Esq.,
Editor of "The Equinox."

My Dear Crow,—Congratulations on the result of your appeal. It is rather nice to have law-suits about Rosicrucian mysteries in this prosaic twentieth century. Incidentally, there is also a fine advertisement for your periodical. Meanwhile, I wish you would teach me to become invisible, to turn my enemy into a black dog, and to discover the buried treasure of the Djinn.

JOHN BULL.
