

THE BELFAST TELEGRAPH
BELFAST, ANTRIM, NORTHERN IRELAND
29 SEPTEMBER 1930
(page 5)

HAS VANISHED FROM LISBON.

ALEISTER CROWLEY MYSTERY.

An English writer described as Aleister Crowley is reported to have vanished from Lisbon (wires the "Daily Herald" correspondent). "Mysterious signs" are said to have been found in a letter discovered on the rocks known as the Mouth of the Inferno by the Sea twenty miles from here.

The letter was addressed to a Miss Hannah Jaegar, who had been staying in Lisbon.