

DAILY MAIL
LONDON, ENGLAND
4 AUGUST 1934

Aleister Crowley to Appeal

Mr. E. A. Crowley (Aleister Crowley, the author) yesterday stated that he intended to appeal against his Old Bailey conviction—he was bound over—on a charge of receiving letters alleged to have been stolen.