

MISPRINTS

- Page IX, Contents, title VII, "Madman" should read "Court fool." The same on p. 12.
- Contents, title IX, "Bad." Better perhaps "Unworthy" or "Inadequate" or even "Spurious." The same of course on p. 15 and 16.
- Page 28, lines 4 and 5. Transfer "regimental" from line 5 to before "concerts" in line 4.
- line 18. For "an" read "the."
- Page 31, line 9. Full stop after "are." Then read: "For the children it is a holiday, the horror of going to school postponed for four and twenty hours." The sentence immediately following to begin with a capital F.
- Page 32, line 8. For "have" read "had."
- Page 33, line 18. Delete "one."
- Page 40, line 11. "Winds" is "monsoon"; "fountains" is "chatty."
- Page 49, line 4. For "us" read "ours."
- Page 58, line 1. Period after "afflicted."
- Page 65, line 8. For "bright" read "proud."
- Page 69, line 26. For "less than" read "but."
- Page 71, line 11. For "good" read "worthy."
- Page 86, line 5. For "dwelt" read "live."
- line 7. After "often" insert "(at the time)"
- line 9. Omit "had."
- Page 87, line 4. Before "returning" insert "on."
- line 23. After "needs" insert "take fine scissors and."